VOTER PARTICIPATION CENTER (VPC) MAY MISLEAD CLAY COUNTY VOTERS

A recent letter from the Voter Participation Center (VPC) has sparked several complaints from Clay County Voters. The Clay County Supervisor of Elections Office has received phone calls in which the callers ask, "Why am I not registered to vote when I have been voting..." The callers are registered voters who are upset and/or confused over the VPC letter stating the voter is not registered to vote. The letter also provides a Voter Registration Application with the voter's name and address pre-filled. Voters mistakingly believe the letter is from the Clay County Supervisor of Elections Office.

The Florida State Association of Supervisors of Elections (FSASE) has asked the VPC to cease this type of mailing because it causes confusion among Florida voters. If you have received this letter, feel free to:

- Visit www.ClayElections.com to check My Registration Status under the VOTERS tab.
- Call our office (904)269-6350 to have your questions answered.
- Contact (VPC) to express your concerns and get answers to your questions.

"It is very disheartening that any organization would take part in an outreach program that results in the undermining of the trust in the voting process especially given the efforts of all the 67 Supervisor of Elections who work tirelessly to provide access to the ballot in a professional manner," said Supervisor Chambless.
